1. Guidelines

- The appraisal should include only subjects relevant to the employee's grade, position, and assigned responsibilities. Leadership, for example, is not a subject that a PTII or PTI should be appraised on.
- Appraisers should evaluate only areas where they have directly observed the Employee's performance or have sufficient firsthand knowledge of the work.
- The Employee's performance should be considered over the entire appraisal period, not only recent events
- The Appraiser must strive to be completely impartial and unbiased when carrying out the Appraisal. Personal relationships, conflicts, friendships, or unrelated opinions must not influence scoring
- Supporting examples or documents must be provided for unusually low (1, 2) or high (6, 7) scores
- A score of 5 represents the Expected Standard. It is considered to be the Median or Norm. A score of 5 indicates that the employee is capable and knowledgeable of that subject criteria, that they are effective in that role and a contributing crew member
- A score of 3 or 4 is expected with a new hire or an Employee who has recently been promoted. These are not bad scores. It simply means that the Employee is developing in the new role.
- Keep the comments at the end brief. They are included so that comments can be made if necessary. The intention is that sections 6 and 7 will show the agreement between the Appraiser and the Employee as to what actions are required
- Use the following convention to name the files:
  Eval_Employees Initials_Appraisers Initials_Date [e.g.: Eval_JJ_BB_28-Aug-26]
- Send the file to: dousevals@deepoceangroup.com
- The Employee will be given an overall Appraisal by the Operations Manager based on at least 6 appraisals from at least 3 Appraisers.
  It is recognized that some flexibility will be required for employees that are on rotation
- The intention of the appraisal is to indicate the Employees attitude and knowledge and skill in any specific topic. It will determine if there are any specific areas which require more attention and the course of action which must be taken
- There is no such thing as a bad appraisal. There is only an honest appraisal or a dishonest appraisal. A dishonest appraisal is of no benefit to the Employee or DeepOcean and is not fair to the Employees crew mates

2. Scoring Standard

Score	Behavioral Standard
7	Outstanding Demonstrates exceptional, sustained performance that clearly exceeds normal expectations. Requires no supervision, actively develops others, and is regularly sought out for guidance.
6	Above Expectations Demonstrates strong understanding and consistently performs above expectations. Works effectively without supervision, regularly takes initiative, supports the crew, and actively seeks improvement opportunities.
5	Meets Expectations Demonstrates the expected knowledge, skill, and attitude for the position, safely and effectively performs required tasks without supervision, contributes positively to the crew, and consistently meets expectations.
4	Developing Towards Expectations Demonstrates reasonable understanding and a willingness to learn. Works safely and performs tasks effectively but may require occasional guidance or support in certain areas.
3	Developing Demonstrates basic understanding and can perform many tasks safely with appropriate instruction and supervision. Requires regular guidance and additional experience to achieve the expected competency level.
2	Improvement Required Demonstrates limited engagement, initiative, or commitment to development. Requires close supervision and need significant improvement to meet expected standards.
1	Unacceptable Does not demonstrate the minimum knowledge, skills, attitude, or situational awareness required to perform safely and effectively. Presents a potential risk to themselves, others, or operations and requires immediate corrective action.
N	Not Observed / Not Applicable The appraiser has not directly observed the employee performing the activity, the criterion does not apply, or the appraiser lacks sufficient knowledge to provide a fair assessment.
